Barrington, Illinois

Located 32 miles northwest of Chicago, the Village of Barrington's motto is "A great place to live, work and play." With a population just over 10,000, the zip code of 60010 is the 7th wealthiest zip code in the country. The area features wetlands, forest preserves and horse trails in a country-suburban setting.

Noted for its Victorian and Queen Anne architecture, Barrington has several buildings on the National Register for Historic Places: the Octagon House, Catlow Theatre, and The Ice House Mall - a renovated brick building housing specialty shops that was originally built in 1904 for the Bowman Dairy.

During the early twentieth century, the Barrington area was mostly rural countryside with expansive dairy farms, but these farms eventually gave way to the country estates built by wealthy Chicagoans that you'll find today.

The median home value in Barrington is $602,235, compared to Decatur's $78,100, and the cost of living index is 116.5 compared to Decatur's affordable 75.3.

Average commute time for Barrington residents is 32 minutes (compared to Decatur's average of 12 minutes,) with some commutes reaching up to an hour depending on train traffic through the village.
